

3 December 2012: In celebration of the International Day of Persons with Disability, we speak to the President of the Federation of Associations of Disabled Persons about how organisations are advocating for a different approach to disability, away from the traditional understanding of charity.

{enclose 3-12-2012.mp3}